Female flathead sues Rex Hunt in paternity suit

by MR FLOPPY

Popular AFL identity and television fishing show host Rex Hunt has been sued by a female flathead in a groundbreaking paternity suit. The female flathead, Swishy, spoke to the Bladder yesterday about her legal action.

"When I first met Rex I fell for him hook, line and sinker," said Swishy. "Literally. After Rex pulled his tackle out of my gullet he kissed me, and one thing led to another. It was very passionate and romantic, but once he'd had his way with me he cruelly cast me overboard. Next thing I know I'm pregnant with his school and he's not returning my phone calls."

Hunt has vowed to vigorously defend the legal proceedings, which are believed to be the first in legal history instituted by a fish. Hunt does not deny that he and Swishy had a "relationship" but denies her paternity allegations. "I did not have sexual relations with that flathead," said a defiant Hunt yesterday as he pointed at the camera emphatically.

Legal sources, however, report that Swishy has subpoenaed an incriminating video tape which shows Hunt passionately kissing the shapely young flathead. Although Hunt has refused to undergo a DNA test, Swishy's legal team are hopeful of proving Hunt's paternity of her

"My babies have twitchy faces, acute learning disabilities, and can only say one nonsensical word, yibbida," said an emotional Swishy. "Who else do you think the father is, Sam Newman?"

Newman refused to comment on the controversy yesterday, but did offer a smile to the camera which is reported to have caused one million virgins to simultaneously achieve shuddering orgasms.
